(a) Definitions

“Base support” includes Government-controlled working space, material, equipment, services, and facilities only as identified in the Incidental Government Property List, Section J, Attachment 1E, or as an attachment contained within the solicitation (RFP) provided to the Seller. If such information is not provided to the Seller, then this clause shall have no applicability to the Seller.

Incidental Government Property is Government property that is incidental to the place of performance, when the contract requires Seller personnel to be located on a Government site or installation, and when the property used by the Seller within the location remains accountable to the Government. Items considered to be incidental to the place of performance include, for example, office space, desks, chairs, telephones, computers, and fax machines. This definition of Incidental Government Property shall include such incidental items furnished by LOCKHEED MARTIN.

All other terms in this clause shall have the same meanings as given in FAR 52.245-1 unless otherwise stated.

(b) Provision of Base Support

- (1) The Government shall provide base support to the Seller through LOCKHEED MARTIN in accordance with this clause, if LOCKHEED MARTIN has authorized such use by the Seller. During contract performance, should the Government terminate a service or support, the Government will notify LOCKHEED MARTIN a minimum of 90 days prior to termination of the service or support, so the Seller may make alternate arrangements or put work around procedures in place. Facilities shall not be purchased under this clause. Additionally, the Seller (or authorized representative) shall not purchase, nor incur costs to furnish any base support requirement provided by the clause (or authorize others to do so), without prior written approval of LOCKHEED MARTIN, if it has obtained such approval from the Contracting Officer, regarding the price, terms, and conditions of the proposed purchase, ice ore</MCE

Further, such delay, non-performance, or non-compliance determined to be solely attributable to the MSD under FAR 52.249-14, Excusable Delays shall not be used by the Government, in whole or in part, as the basis for termination for default or withholding of payments under tm9.2(h de)o
